Protecting Learners from Extremism and Radicalisation

Training providers have a vital role to play in protecting learners from the risks of extremism and radicalisation. This role is underpinned by the Counter Terrorism and Security Act (2015) to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism.

The Prevent Strategy published by the Government in 2011 is part of an overall counter terrorism strategy CONTEST. The aim of the Prevent strategy is to reduce the threat to the UK from terrorism by stopping people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism activity. This has raised a specific need to safeguard people, children, young people and families from violent extremism and terrorism. Nationally, there have been situations in which extremist groups have attempted to radicalise vulnerable children, Adults and Young People to hold extreme views. Such views include justifying political, religious, sexist or racist violence, or to steer individuals into a rigid and narrow ideology that is either vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values including embracing diversity and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs.

Milltech Training Ltd is fully committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all learners who we work with. As a training provider we recognise that safeguarding against radicalisation is no different from safeguarding against any other vulnerability.

All staff are expected to uphold and promote the Fundamental Principles of British values.

These 4 fundamental British values are:

Democracy
Rule of Law
Respect & Tolerance
Individual Liberty

Milltech Training Ltd values freedom of speech and the expression of beliefs as fundamental rights underpinning our society's values. Learners and all Teachers/Assessors/Training Workers have the right to speak freely and voice their opinions however, freedom comes with responsibility and free speech that is designed to manipulate the vulnerable or that leads to violence and/or harm of others goes against the moral principles in which freedom of speech is valued. Free speech is not an unqualified privilege; it is subject to laws and policies governing equality, human rights, community safety and community cohesion.

Milltech and Staff will promote these values of those with different faiths and beliefs. Please refer to Milltech Training Ltd Fundamental British Values Policy for further information.

The Four 'P's

Prevent Pursue
Protect Prepare.

The UK counter-terrorism strategy will continue to be organised around four work streams, each comprising a number of key objectives

- Pursue: to stop terrorist attacks;
- Prevent: to stop people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism;
- Protect: to strengthen our protection against a terrorist attack; and
- Prepare: to mitigate the impact of a terrorist attack.

Paragraphs 16-20

Threat Levels

The current threat from terrorism in the United Kingdom may include the exploitation of vulnerable people, to involve them in terrorism or in activity in support of terrorism. The normalisation of extreme views may also make learners vulnerable to future manipulation and exploitation. Milltech Training Ltd is clear that this exploitation and radicalisation should be viewed as a safeguarding concern.

For the further information and latest updates for the threat level of the UK, please follow the link - <https://www.met.police.uk/advice/advice-and-information/t/terrorism-in-the-uk/current-threat-level-UK/>

Online Radicalisation is the action in which an individual, or a group of people come to adopt increasingly extreme political, social, or religious ideals and aspirations that reject or undermine the status quo or undermine contemporary ideas and expressions of the UK. The internet is used in Milltech Training Ltd to raise educational standards, to promote learner achievement, to support the professional work of staff and to enhance the training management functions. Technology is advancing rapidly and is now a huge part of everyday life, education and business. We want to equip our learners with all the necessary I.T skills that they will need in order to enable them to progress confidently in their careers and onward towards their working environments when they leave education.

Some learners are being educated at home during the coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak, so leaders and teachers are having to adjust to remote education strategies. While this is happening, it is important that we continue to follow procedures -online education should follow the same principles set out in your staff behaviour policy (sometimes known as a code of conduct). Keeping teachers safe when providing remote education is also essential. Remote education is a new experience for both staff and learners, so it's important that we understand how to approach procedures online.

Aims and Principles

To ensure all training staff are aware of the Prevent Strategy and are able to protect children and young people who are vulnerable or at risk of being radicalised by working alongside other professional bodies and agencies to ensure that individuals are safe from harm.

The principle objectives are that:

- All staff working or volunteering within our training/teaching/assessing setting will:
 - Have an understanding of what radicalisation and extremism are and why we need to be vigilant in a training setting.
 - Know what the training provider policy is on safeguarding from radicalisation and extremism and will follow the policy when issues arise.
 - Have completed the Safeguarding and Prevent Strategy training annually

Definitions

- Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremism leading to terrorism (Appendix 1).
- Extremism is defined by Government in the prevent strategy as: Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. Also include in the definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces (Appendix 1).
- Terrorism is defined by Government as “The use of violence in order to accomplish political, religious or social objectives”. Terrorism is a criminal act that influences an audience beyond the immediate victim. Effectiveness is not the act itself but the impact on Government and the public.

Procedures for referrals

Keeping learners and apprentices safe from these risks is a safeguarding matter and should be approached in the same way as safeguarding children from other risks.

Although serious incidents involving radicalisation have not occurred at Milltech Training Ltd, it is important for us to be vigilant and remain informed about the issues which affect risks to the provision. All staff are reminded to dispel belief that instances of radicalisation 'could not happen here'.

When any member of staff has concerns that a learner or apprentice may be at risk of radicalisation or involvement in terrorism, they should speak with the training provider's DSL for safeguarding learners from radicalisation and involvement in terrorism. They will be responsible for contacting the Police Prevent Team who will assess whether the learner/apprentice may be at risk of radicalisation, seek professional support, advice and guidance where required and inform the Police if necessary as well as flagging the situation as a safeguarding issue. The Police Prevent Team may refer them to the Local Authority Channel Panel (Appendix 2).

Risk Reduction/Safer Online

The Management Team of Milltech Training Ltd and the Designated Safeguarding Lead will assess the level of risk within the training setting and put actions in place to reduce any identified risks.

Learners and apprentices are regularly taught about how to stay safe when using the internet and are encouraged to recognise that people are not always who they say they are online. They are taught to seek adult help if they are upset or concerned about anything they read or see on the internet.

Staff Training

Milltech Training Ltd will ensure that staff have 'due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism'. They are aware of the threats, risks and vulnerabilities that are linked to radicalisation and they understand the signs that someone may be vulnerable to radicalisation.

Training may be undertaken via e-learning or a face to face workshop to raise awareness of Prevent (WRAP) session. All staff will be required to complete safeguarding and prevent training annually and will have certification to demonstrate they have undertaken this training.

All staff will also undertake mandatory safeguarding training delivered by the DSL on an annual basis.

Channel

Channel is a multi-agency approach to provide support to individuals who are at risk of being drawn into terrorist related activity. It is led by the regional Police Counter-Terrorism Unit, and it aims to:

- Establish an effective multi-agency referral and intervention process to identify vulnerable individuals.
- Safeguard individuals who might be vulnerable to being radicalised, so that they are not at risk of being drawn into terrorist-related activity.
- Provide early intervention to protect and divert people away from the risks they face and reduce vulnerability.

The Channel programme focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism. It provides a mechanism for providers to make referrals if they are concerned that an individual might be vulnerable to radicalisation. An individual's participation in the programme is entirely voluntary at all stages.

Appendix 1

Indicators of Vulnerability to Radicalisation

1. Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism.
2. Extremism is defined by the Government in the Prevent Strategy as: Vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs.

We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.

3. Extremism is defined by the Crown Prosecution Service as:
The demonstration of unacceptable behaviour by using any means or medium to express views which:
 - Encourage, justify or glorify terrorist violence in furtherance of particular beliefs;
 - Seek to provoke others to terrorist acts;
 - Encourage other serious criminal activity or seek to provoke others to serious criminal acts; or
 - Foster hatred which might lead to inter-community violence in the UK.
4. There is no such thing as a “typical extremist”: those who become involved in extremist actions come from a range of backgrounds and experiences, and most individuals, even those who hold radical views, do not become involved in violent extremist activity.
5. Students, Learners, Apprentices, Children and young people may become susceptible to radicalisation through a range of social, personal and environmental factors - it is known that violent extremists exploit vulnerabilities in individuals to drive a wedge between them and their families and communities. It is vital that all training provider staff are able to recognise those vulnerabilities.
6. Indicators of vulnerability include:

Identity Crisis – the child or young person is distanced from their cultural / religious heritage and experiences discomfort about their place in society;

Personal Crisis – the child or young person may be experiencing family tensions; a sense of isolation; and low self-esteem; they may have dissociated from their existing friendship group and become involved with a new and different group of friends; they may be searching for answers to questions about identity, faith and belonging;

Personal Circumstances – migration; local community tensions; and events affecting the child or young person’s country or region of origin may contribute to a sense of grievance that is triggered by personal experience of racism or discrimination or aspects of Government policy;

Unmet Aspirations – the child or young person may have perceptions of injustice; a feeling of failure; rejection of civic life;

Experiences of Criminality – this may include involvement with criminal groups, imprisonment, and poor resettlement / reintegration;

Individual Needs – child or young person may experience difficulties with social interaction, empathy with others, understanding the consequences of their actions and awareness of the motivations of others.

However, this list is not exhaustive, nor does it mean that all children or young people experiencing the above are at risk of radicalisation for the purposes of violent extremism.

7. More critical risk factors could include:

- Being in contact with extremist recruiters;
- Accessing violent extremist websites, especially those with a social networking element;
- Possessing or accessing violent extremist literature;
- Using extremist narratives and a global ideology to explain personal disadvantage;
- Justifying the use of violence to solve societal issues;
- Joining or seeking to join extremist organisations;
- Significant changes to appearance and / or behaviour; and
- Experiencing a high level of social isolation resulting in issues of identity crisis and / or personal crisis.
